

JOURNAL OF ELT AND POETRY

A Peer reviewed International Research Journal

Articles available online <http://www.journalofelt.in>

A Premier Publication from KY PUBLICATIONS. India.

Poetry

Vol. 2., Issue 5., 2014

POSSESSED

Dr. Mallika Tripathi

Assoc. Professor & Head,
Deptt. of Humanities, Feroze Gandhi Institute of Engg. & Technology,
Raebareli-229001
Uttar Pradesh,
India

Article Info:

Article Received: 12/09/2014

Revised on: 19/09/2014

Accepted on :21/09/2014

I saw an apparition; calling me signalling the mysterious tale,
walking towards me,
coming closer, talking, laughing, singing and crying.

I got scared, tried to hide,
but there was something appealing,
leaving me possessed.

I went closer to examine,
if it was my imagination
or the phantom exists.

I attempted to touch the untouchable
but suddenly got surprised,
took a step back
as I could realize
She was my Mother who came to see me to confirm if I slept calmly.

I wondered how I could visualize her to be an incorporeal being, haunting my memories ever.

I walked, I talked
but suddenly I stopped;
my mother left this inane world
Five years back leaving us mourning forever.

Then who was she standing in my front calling me for the last four months?

The moment got tensed,
the light dimmed,
the voice choked
leaving my eyes horrifically closed.

The morning came with a naval thought enlightening me with the rarest shot;
my mother never went far,
she might have been a bit under par.

She lived eternally nearby
to console me whenever I cry,
In the form of birds,
In the form of water
In the form of prayer
That I daily offer.

She was always close to me
watching, protecting, healing my wounded soul Fighting with other demonic spirits to succour me achieve my heavenly goals.
